DEAR AFP ANNUAL CONFERENCE ATTENDEES:

When AFP members meet, ideas do not simply add up. They multiply. That is why, for the 2013 Annual Conference in Las Vegas, AFP has assembled a lineup of speakers who have never been short on big ideas.

The 2013 Annual Conference begins at Sunday's General Session, featuring keynote speaker General Colin Powell. For more than 50 years, General Powell has devoted his life to public service. He has held senior military and diplomatic positions across four presidential administrations, including National Security Advisor and chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of State.

Also this year, we are joined by former FDIC Chairman Sheila Bair, whose leadership helped us weather the storm of the 2008 financial crisis. She was adamant that the FDIC not turn to taxpayer borrowing and instead manage its losses and liquidity needs through its traditional industry-funded resources.

Featured speaker Nate Silver, founder of FiveThirtyEight.com, is certainly no stranger to big ideas. Recently named to Fast Company's list of the Most Creative People of 2013, Silver received worldwide acclaim for the accuracy of his predictions during the 2008 and 2012 presidential elections.

Liz Wiseman, president of the Wiseman Group, also knows a thing or two about ideas multiplying. In a special session Wiseman will discuss how leaders can become Multipliers—individuals who amplify the capabilities of those around them.

Speaker Stephen Few, founder and principal, Perceptual Edge, will demonstrate the power of data visualization for telling quantitative stories in clear and compelling ways.

The CTC Breakfast features speaker Jon Meacham, Pulitzer Prize-winning author and contributing editor of Time Magazine. And the Certification Luncheon welcomes Mark Zandi, chief economist and co-founder of Moody's Economy.com.

This year's Executive Institute hosts two special luncheon speakers. On Monday, George Bodenheimer, executive chairman of ESPN, provides a look at why the best organizations focus on people over profits. And on Tuesday, Daniel L. Doctoroff, president and CEO of Bloomberg L.P., will discuss how companies must continuously reinvent themselves as situations change.

Conference attendees will also have an opportunity to give back to the Las Vegas community by volunteering with Opportunity Village, an organization that helps area residents with intellectual disabilities. Attendees will be able to decorate the Magical Forest at Opportunity Village, paint decorations, clean, organize items for the Santa Run and decorate a tree sponsored by BBVA and AFP.

Of course, as our "ideas multiply" theme suggests, this conference is also the perfect time to meet with your peers, ask questions, compare ideas and find solutions. With so many educational and networking sessions, you're sure to walk away with a multitude of new ideas for your business.

AFPAware

Workplace | Community | Environment

The Association for Financial Professionals proudly continues AFPAware – a program that supports a healthier environment for its members, employees and communities. This year’s Annual Conference includes practices to reduce unnecessary waste and positively impact the local community.

There are many ways to be AFPAware at this year’s Annual Conference.

- Volunteer with Opportunity Village—Las Vegas’ favorite charity. Sponsored by BBVA Compass.
- Participate in a PaintFest in booth 1557. The murals for the PaintFest are pre-drawn by Foundation for Hospital Art artists and color coded. Attendees will have the opportunity to paint during the Opening Exhibit Hall Reception on Sunday, Exhibit Hall Hours on Monday, and Exhibit Hall hours on Tuesday – up until 2:00 p.m. Sponsored by BBVA Compass.
- Use the recycling receptacles throughout the convention center

COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECT Sponsored by BBVA Compass

Give back to the city of Las Vegas and volunteer with Opportunity Village, an organization serving people with intellectual disabilities in the Las Vegas community. Projects include decorating the Magical Forest at Opportunity Village, painting decorations, cleaning, organizing items for the Santa Run and decorating a tree sponsored by BBVA and AFP.

Unable to volunteer, but want to give back? Consider making a donation to Opportunity Village. Opportunity Village relies on community support to continue providing programs and services for more than 1,600 men and women with intellectual disabilities on a daily basis. Visit www.opportunityvillage.org to make a donation.

We invite you to join us in this important endeavor.

(Limited to CTPs, CTP(CD)s, CCMs and FP&A volunteers.)

CTP/CCM RECERTIFICATION CREDITS

The 2013 AFP Annual Conference, including pre-conference program offerings, is approved for up to a maximum of 31.3 continuing education credits.

To earn the maximum number of credits, the CTP/CTP(CD)/CCM must attend:

- A full day Pre-Conference seminar on both Saturday and Sunday

- Nine Concurrent Sessions
- Industry Roundtables Luncheon on Monday (Corporate Practitioners only)
- The Certification Luncheon Address on Tuesday

If you do not attend any pre-conference programs, you can earn a maximum of 16.9 credits.

Also, some sessions are marked as eligible for CTP/CCM career development credits. In accordance with the recertification guidelines, continuing education credits earned under the career development topic category are limited to a maximum of three credits per renewal cycle.

CALCULATING CREDITS EARNED

AFP Annual Conference CE credits are earned at the rate of one (1) credit per 50 minutes of instruction, including Q&A. To determine the total number of credits earned, calculate the sum of the number of minutes of instruction across all days of Conference, divide by 50. Please note: A few sessions offered at this year's conference do not qualify for continuing education credits, as the topics are unrelated to treasury and finance subjects, or are fundamental in scope. Sessions that are eligible for CE credits are marked with a CTP logo.

REPORTING CTP/CCM AND CE CREDITS FOR PRE-CONFERENCE SESSIONS, CONCURRENT SESSIONS, EXECUTIVE INSTITUTE SESSIONS OR INDUSTRY ROUNDTABLES

Sessions for which you complete and submit an evaluation form will be automatically uploaded to your Online Recertification Credit Tracking record by December 31, 2013, if you include the customer ID number from your badge on the form. If you participate in any of these sessions but do not complete and submit an evaluation form, your attendance will not be automatically recorded and you will need to manually enter that information into your Online Recertification record at www.AFPonline.org/recert.

REPORTING CTP/CCM OR CE CREDITS FOR THE SUNDAY AND TUESDAY GENERAL SESSIONS AND CERTIFICATION LUNCHEON SPEAKER

Evaluation forms are not provided for the general sessions and the certification luncheon speaker so you will need to manually enter your attendance at those sessions into your Online Recertification record at www.AFPonline.org/recert.

MAINTAINING DOCUMENTATION OF ATTENDANCE

It is the responsibility of each CTP, CTP(CD) and CCM to maintain records documenting continuing education activities for up to two years after the close of your recertification reporting cycle. A copy of your 2013 AFP Annual Conference Program Book with attended sessions accordingly marked will be adequate documentation for this activity. Alternatively, a copy of your registration confirmation e-mail and a copy of the schedule (downloaded from the AFP Website at www.afpconference.org/planner) with the sessions you attended marked accordingly will also serve as adequate documentation.

Although the vast majority of commercial borrowers have enjoyed low and stable interest rates over recent years, this phase of the economic cycle will inevitably end. At some point interest rates will rise, and with proven risk management tools at the disposal of treasury managers, there's little justification for a company to be unprepared. Prudent risk management practice requires taking action before the change in the environment is widely expected to be imminent. This course teaches participants how to get ahead of the curve and explain the tools that are available for managing interest rate risks including how they're designed, how they're traded, and how they can serve to achieve a variety of interest rate objectives.

 Track: Pension & Benefits
 CPA Field of Study: FIN

Daniel Ransenberg
 Director, Multi-Asset Client Solutions
BlackRock

Numerous “perfect storms” for pension plans over the past decade have taught us that in periods of stress, diversification often fails to deliver what was hoped for in asset portfolios. Plummeting treasury interest rates can cause pension liabilities to skyrocket at the same time as the asset portfolio suffers. These conditions spawned the risk parity and LDI strategies that numerous sponsors are implementing today. This session focuses on implementing those strategies.

The FX risk management policy statements of many U.S. corporations often consider the magnitude of the exposure when determining desirable hedges, but rarely the cost. In practice, companies forgo FX forward hedges when interest rate differentials cause large hedge costs. Without explicitly evaluating currency risk and hedges on a portfolio basis, selective hedging of currencies has uncertain impacts on a firm’s overall risk profile. Learn about the robustness of a portfolio management framework used to evaluate selective hedging decisions and the impact of exposure forecast variability.

Given the low return environment for both equity and fixed income markets, pension sponsors should rethink the structure of their liability hedging and return seeking allocations. By including capital efficient strategies with physical bonds, sponsors can better match liability duration and yield curve risk. Stock markets remain highly correlated, so the addition of diversifying risky assets provides a greater chance of meeting objectives and managing risk. This session focuses on the daily use of pension glide paths to address these challenges.
